Dear Animal Lovers on Koh Samui,

October 2010

Horrifying cases like the ones below are unfortunately still the sad reality that we have to face every single day. Sometimes it is hard to understand how animals can be left unreported and untreated for such a long time. We give our best to help these poor souls when they arrive at the DRCS and of course in a way we are thankful for every injured or sick animal we manage to get into our care. In many cases the dogs and cats that come to us looking like they've just been to hell and back, recover quite quickly once given the right kind of medical treatment.

These are just a few out of the average 25 serious cases that arrive at the DRCS every month
PLEASE HELP US HELP and inform us when you see a sick or injured dog or cat in need of help

Thank you very much for all your help. We hope we can count on your continued support so that we can make even more progress in the future. We believe our efforts to make Koh Samui more animal-friendly have made it a happier and safer place for tourists, for which the tourists are grateful. Our four-legged friends are most grateful for your contribution!

Best wishes
Brigitte
